A meeting which is virtually certain to have direct bearing on her or not Marion county voters will be asked to approve a evy for the construction of a new hospital is slated for tomorrnight when city and county officials are to meet with the Marion Planning association board of directors over what action is to ken on the hospital question.

The meeting is set for 8 p. m. at Hotel Harding, following a ng of the Planning Association's board of directors, called for urpose of naming association rs for the year.

GIRL KILLED, 2 YOUTHS HURT IN ACCIDENT

Lexington Trio Involved in Headon Crash Near Mt. Gilead.

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD, May 6—Donna Potts, 15, is dead and Glenn Rinehart, 19, a U. S. Marine home on furlough and Ted Potts, 14, brother of Donna, are in Mansfield hospital in a serious condition as a result of a headon car and truck crash at 8:15 last night on route 42 two miles northeast of Mt. Gilead. The trio were enroute to their home near Lexington on route 42, near Mansfield, when the fatal accident occurred.

Witnesses described the accident to highway patrolmen as follows:

Rinehart, driver of the car in which the Potts children were riding, attempted to pass a car driven by Belle Dawson, 48, of Mt. Gilead when his car collided with the side of the Dawson car then bounced off headon into a Farm Bureau tank truck driven by Walter Augustus Darfus, 43, of Newark which was approaching from the opposite direction.

Patrolmen were summoned as was Dr. Frank H. Sweeney, Morrow county coroner.

Coroner's Verdict

Arriving on the scene Coroner Sweeney viewed the body of the Potts girl and made a finding of accidental death. Donna Potts died, the coroner said, as a result of contusions of the chest and shock. Both of her legs were broken in the crash. She was removed to Craven Funeral Home in Mt. Gilead.

Coroner Sweeney gave primary treatment to Rinehart and Ted Potts who were then removed to Mansfield hospital in Craven's ambulance. Their condition is serious, the coroner said.

Glenn Rinehart suffered a compound fracture of the right leg, fracture of the left leg, and fractured skull, while Ted Potts suffered fractures of the upper right leg and both hands, and contusions, lacerations and shock, Dr. Sweeney said. Darfus suffered leg and chest injuries.

Home on Furlough

Marine Rinehart was on furlough from Parris Island, S. C., Marine Base, and was returning to the Potts home after a drive when the accident occurred.

The Rinehart car was demolished, witnesses reported; the motor having been driven back into the front seat from the force of the headon collision.

LAUSCHE INVITES PARTY HEADS' AID

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 6—Former Gov. Frank J. Lausche today invited organization Democrats to climb aboard his bandwagon on the come-back trail.

He cautioned, however, there will be room only for "leadership whose principle purpose will be to serve the people."

Nearly complete returns from Tuesday's primary stamped Lausche as a rugged foe for Republican Gov. Thomas J. Herbert in the Nov. 2 election.

He campaigned as an independent against Ray T. Miller, former Cuyahoga county Democratic chieftain, who said Lausche couldn't hope to win without organization support.

But Lausche soundly trounced Miller, who had numerous county organizations, the CIO Political Action Committee and prominent Democrats in his corner.

Returns from 9154 of Ohio's 9385 polling places gave Lausche 325,519 votes; Miller 137,729.

Returns from 9180 polling places gave Herbert 551,326 votes. Two opponents were Albert E. Payne of Springfield with 30,563 and William L. White of Newark with 50,846.

Miller reportedly left for Bermuda without issuing a statement but Lausche said he preferred to campaign against Governor Herbert with the regular party organizations.

He asserted the organization's leadership must be friendly "beyond all doubt" to his candidacy and that of other party nominees.

ARMY PILOT KILLED

MIDDLETOWN, O., May 6—An Army liaison-type plane crashed in a field here yesterday, killing the pilot. The Wilson funeral home tentatively identified him as Lt. George D. Maxwell, 29, and said Wright Field at Dayton had been notified.

Railroad Companies Post Layoff Notices

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, May 6—The nation's railroads today began posting layoff notices in preparation for Tuesday's strike. Some roads announced embargoes as union leaders were summoned to Washington for a new attempt to settle the dispute.

The strike is slated for 6 a. m. (local standard time) Tuesday by members of the Brotherhoods of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen and Enginemen and the Switchmen's Union of North America.

Under their contracts the individual roads are required to give anywhere from five days to 48 hours notice of impending layoffs. Rail spokesmen said "abolition" of jobs spoken of in some announcements was merely a legal way of saying "layoff."

Meantime the roads began preparations for the strike through embargoing food and animal shipments. This is being done both to avoid damage claims and to prevent jamming of terminal yards.

The Pennsylvania announced it would shut down its entire system and not attempt to operate trains, but the Illinois Central said it would "try to maintain operations as normally as possible." The Louisville and Nashville, the Missouri, Kansas and Texas, the Missouri Pacific and the St. Louis-San Francisco, placed their embargo for Friday.

The Southern railroad made its ban effective at 12:01 a. m. Saturday. The Association of American Railroads said no general embargo action is planned, since such steps are up to the individual roads.

The three unions have rejected a presidential board's recommendation for a 15½ cent wage increase, standing instead upon their demand for a 30 per cent boost and changes in 25 working rules.

The layoff notices were spread throughout the nation, although some roads, like the Southern Pacific, said they had no immediate plans for furloughing. The Baltimore and Ohio said it would not recall 8,500 employes still laid off in the wake of the recent coal strike, and added that all its men will be laid off at 12:01 a. m. Wednesday.

C. & O. Sends Out Notices

The Chesapeake and Ohio; the New York, New Haven, and Hartford; the Boston and Maine; and the Southern also sent out layoff notices.

The Pennsylvania said in a letter to all its employes that the strike might idle all its 140,000 employes. The Louisville and Nashville said there was a "possibility" of layoffs on Tuesday.

The unions, in announcing the strike, said their members will operate milk, troop and hospital trains.

"Out of Meat" Time Faces Larger Cities

By International News Service

WASHINGTON, May 6—Agriculture department officials said today that some of the nation's major cities will be out of meat within a week if the rail strike threat is carried out.

The officials pointed out that none of the large eastern cities, with the possible exception of New York, has cold storage facilities of any consequence. The same is true of the west coast and the south.

Although stocks of meat in storage are at a near record for this time of year, large storage plants are located for the most part near midwestern packing houses.

It was pointed out that most cities, including the nation's capital, are served by branch houses of the packing companies. These, however, are said to handle only "normal pipeline stocks"—generally about a week's supply.

The rail strike, also would affect the flow of livestock to slaughter houses although about 75 per cent of this movement is handled by motor trucks.

The stoppage would put a double squeeze on the "big four" packers whose plants have been at least partially tied up since

GENERAL MACARTHUR VISITED BY HIROHITO

By International News Service

TOKYO, May 6—Japanese Emperor Hirohito conferred for two hours today with Gen. Douglas MacArthur on the occasion of a sixth visit to the American supreme allied commander.

Among a series of questions put by the emperor, Hirohito asked the general when he planned to return to the United States.

The general's answer was not disclosed.

Nor were any of MacArthur's replies to Hirohito's other question which included:

When can Japan expect the conclusion of a peace treaty with the Allies?

What levels of industrial production will Japan be permitted to maintain?

What American aid may Japan expect?

The meeting was held in Tokyo's United States embassy. The emperor arrived a little after 10 a. m., and left shortly after 12 o'clock noon.

Hirohito's personal call on the supreme commander was completely unheralded and no public announcement of the topics or results of the conference was made.

STASSEN GETS 9 DELEGATES

Taft Says His 44 Gives Him Assurance of Lead in Convention.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 6—Harold E. Stassen's capture of nine Ohio Republican presidential delegates today was called victory or defeat—depending on which way you looked.

Sen. Robert A. Taft won the other 14 contested delegates, plus 30 without opposition from the former Minnesota governor, nearly complete returns showed.

Both Taft and Stassen hailed the outcome of Tuesday's primary election as a personal victory. Their delegates are pledged to support them for the GOP presidential nomination at the national convention next month.

Taft from Washington said his 44 Ohio delegates assured him of more first ballot convention votes than any other candidate.

Stassen said his was a "clear cut victory—one of the most significant developments of the entire national campaign."

"The Republicans of Ohio have advanced us another step toward nomination at Philadelphia," Stassen asserted at Minneapolis.

Flush from victories in Wisconsin, Nebraska and Pennsylvania primaries, Stassen had predicted he would get a dozen Ohio delegates, including one from the state at-large.

He selected industrialized areas principally for his battle grounds, apparently expecting to capitalize on sentiment against the Taft-Hartley law.

Didn't Get All Areas

The pay-off was a Stassen sweep of delegates in the Toledo, Akron, Youngstown and Dayton areas. He split with Taft in one Cleveland district but lost the others there, and in the Canton, Steubenville, Springfield and Portsmouth sectors.

Carrington T. Marshall, Columbus attorney and former chief justice of the Ohio supreme court, was Stassen's only delegate-at-large candidate. With nine to be elected on a statewide basis, Marshall ran a distant tenth.

Taft people noted that Stassen had said he would not regard his Ohio race as a victory unless Marshall's vote total equalled the average received by Taft delegates-at-large.

Taft, himself, in pre-primary forecasts, refused to concede Stassen a single delegate but his campaign manager, Rep. Clarence J. Brown, said "par for the course is four to nine."

Marshall Vote Lowest

Sen. John W. Bricker led the at-large field with 410,513 votes with 9,180 of 9,385 polling places reported. Ed D. Schorr of Cincinnati, former state GOP chairman, was lowest of the nine winners with 330,524. Marshall ran out with 318,271.

Taft thanked Ohio voters for their "overwhelming support."

He said it was significant that Stassen won six of his delegates in the industrial areas of Akron, Youngstown and Dayton. He described those cities as strongly Democratic with a large labor vote and added:

"There is evidence that many New Dealers and radical Democrats crossed over and voted in the Republican primary, on the request and instruction of Stassen managers."

Supporting Taft's contention were totals from normally Democratic Summit county where Akron is located. Republicans there cast 41,876 votes to 39,658 by Democrats.

There was no contest for delegates on the Democratic side. All 50 Democratic convention delegates are pledged nominally to W. A. Julian of Cincinnati, treasurer of the United States, but are committed to vote for President Truman.

College's Entire Student Body To Pass Through City

Urbana Junior College's chartered bus and auto caravan heading for Oberlin college's mock convention will pass through Marion Saturday afternoon, carrying nearly the whole student body and most of the faculty of Ohio's smallest liberal arts school, a news report from the school said today.

The whole campus at Urbana, the faculty, and President Edward F. Memmott, are visiting Oberlin's mock Republican presidential convention Saturday as special observers. The trip is part of their current American government studies.

The college has 48 students and a faculty of 10. For more than a month, teachers and students have been studying Republican campaign issues and candidates, since Oberlin's convention is out to pick the GOP standard-bearer. Students plan to take their own food along on the trip in case Oberlin's eating facilities are overwhelmed by the expected 4,000 convention visitors.

The bus-and-auto caravan will leave the Urbana campus at 1 p. m. and is scheduled to arrive in Oberlin about 4:30 p. m.

The final convention session at which state delegates will begin balloting for the party nominee is set for 7 p. m. on the Oberlin campus.

UN RENEWS TRUCE TRY IN JERUSALEM

By The Associated Press

JERUSALEM, May 6—A United Nations commission tries again here today for a truce covering all Jerusalem, scene of new firing in the fight between Arabs and Jews.

The commission—the Jerusalem consuls general of the United States, Belgium and France—returned last night from Jericho, halfway to Amman, Trans-Jordan.

Authoritative sources said it had failed to bring about a truce agreement in talks there with Col. Roscher Lund of the UN secretariat and Arab leaders.

The Arab leaders were Deputy Foreign Minister Hussein Siraj of Trans-Jordan, Ahmed Hilmi Pasha of the Palestine Arab higher committee and Taaquiddin al Soh, brother of the premier of Lebanon.

The commission found, the informants said, these men had no power to enter into agreements and so decided to call in higher banking Arabs for today's negotiations.

The new negotiations were undertaken on the traditional day of Christ's ascension into heaven from the Mount of Olives near the Holy City.

The Moslem Sheikh Jarrah quarter, through which western Christian clergymen had to pass on their way to services on the Mount today, resounded for an hour last night with submachine-gun fire and grenade and mortar-shell explosions.

Frosts, Floods Cost Heavy on Ohio Roads

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 6—Frost and floods put $2,622,000 worth of breaks and chuck holes in Ohio's roads during the winter and spring.

State Highway Director Earl L. Reeb reported today the frost damage was the heavier, running to $1,780,000. Some secondary roads were badly broken up, he said.

BROTHERHOOD CHIEFS CALLED BY STEELMAN

Truman Aide Calls Conference for Friday in Move To Halt Rail Strike.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 6—The White House today called a conference of railroad Brotherhood chiefs for tomorrow to try to head off the threatened railroad strike.

Dr. John R. Steelman, presidential assistant and labor expert, telephoned the heads of three unions which have called a strike for next Tuesday. He asked them to meet with him at 10 a. m. tomorrow.

Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross, who made the announcement, was asked if any definite proposal would be presented to the Brotherhood leaders.

"I can't say any more than I have," Ross replied.

The brotherhood leaders are Alvanley Johnston of the Locomotive Engineers, David B. Robertson of the Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and A. J. Glover of the Switchmen's union.

Johnston, who was in Cleveland today, said he would leave for Washington tonight. Robertson is already here.

Johnston told reporters Steelman indicated to him he wanted to talk first with the union men, then call in representatives of railroad management.

Reports to Truman

Steelman has been keeping in constant touch with the railroad situation and reporting to President Truman.

Ross was asked whether Steelman would have a similar conference with representatives of the railroads.

"I can't say as yet," Ross said, "I have told you all that has been done to date."

Steelman reached Glover by telephone at Buffalo and got assurance Glover would attend. Robertson said he would.

While House aides would not discuss what possible action might be taken if Steelman cannot persuade the parties to reach an agreement.

They turned aside such questions as whether Mr. Truman will talk personally with the disputants. Whether the union leaders might be asked to postpone the strike date, or whether the government might seize the railroads.

Presidential Plea Likely

A plea by President Truman for the railroad owners and the unions to settle their wage dispute without a crippling nationwide walkout is known to be under study.

But those close to the Chief Executive are prepared to recommend it only if they feel there is a definite possibility the quarreling parties will heed the appeal.

In Cleveland, Alvanley Johnston, head of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, said he would be "glad to sit down with the railroad representatives to see what can be done" to avert a tieup.

He told a reporter it is "very likely" there would have to be a yielding on both sides to settle the dispute.

"Are you willing to yield?" he was asked.

"I won't say that," he replied, "but I would be willing to get together with the railroads to see what needs to be done. That's what we've been trying to do all along. It takes two to make an agreement. I can only speak for myself. I can't speak for the railroads."

The 190,000 members of three railroad brotherhoods are set to walk out at 6 a. m. (local time) May 11. They are the Locomotive engineers, firemen and Enginemen, and Switchmen. Together they could halt operations on the nation's major rail lines because they run the locomotives and control the switches. There are more than a million railroad workers in other unions.

An appeal to the railroads and unions for a new try at settling the controversy might be accompanied by an invitation to talk things over with Mr. Truman at the White House, or to return to negotiations with help from the national mediation board.

As a last resort, the President might order seizure of the railroads under a World War I emergency act which has never been repealed in full. Other presidential authority to take over properties involved in labor disputes was wiped out a year ago by congress.

ACCUSES FCC IN RADIO GRANT

Congressman Critical of Commission in Mansfield FM Case.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 6—Chairman Wayne Coy of the Communications commission said he will study today charges made by Rep Hebert (D-La) that the agency granted five radio station licenses recently to a Toledo, O, attorney Hebert said was active in Communist front organizations.

Hebert told the house yesterday that companies controlled by Edward Lamb of Toledo received construction permits in March for FM stations in Erie, Pa, and Mansfield and Springfield, O, and for television outlets in Erie and Columbus, O.

He said the commission, in an "unprecedented display of cooperation," granted these permits in record time to "a man drenched in communist writings, associations and affiliations" while the agency "keeps untainted, red-blooded Americans cooling their heels * * * waiting for decisions."

Lamb, in Toledo, said he has "denied being a Communist many times" and declared Hebert's attack continued a "smear" campaign against him by the Mansfield News-Journal.

Hebert asserted that files of the un-American activities committee in the house showed that Lamb was tied up with more than half a dozen Communist Front groups.

He said that S A Horvitz, publisher of the Mansfield paper, testified before the commission that he was "convinced that Mr. Lamb is a Communist." This testimony, Hebert said, should have alerted the commission.

Coy said the commission called in the FBI in an attempt to check Horvitz' statement.

"We sought to find such information or source of information that Lamb was a Communist, but failed to do so," he said. Coy said his agency did not check Lamb with the un-American activities committee.

Rep. Huber (D-Ohio) told a reporter he believes the house committee was "derelict in its duty" for not bringing its reported information on Lamb to the attention of the commission. Huber said he "assumed" this committee has been screening applicants for radio licenses.

Huber said that he and several other members of the house intended to check the transcripts of the commission's hearings preceding the license grants.

He said editorials in the Mansfield paper concerning the hearings "indicated to me that the commission might have given further consideration before making the grants to Lamb."

Entire Ohio Group In Congress Renominated

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O, May 6—All 23 of Ohio's representatives in congress will be on the November ballot.

Seventeen were unopposed in Tuesday's primary. The others—five Republicans and one Democrat—brushed aside primary rivals with ease.

Incumbents renominated over challengers were Edward O McCowen of Wheelersburg, Sixth district; Frederick C. Smith of Marion, Eighth district; Thomas A Jenkins of Ironton, Tenth; Walter E Brehm of Logan, Eleventh, and Henderson H. Carson of Canton, Sixteenth, all Republicans, and Robert Crosser of Cleveland, Twenty-First.

The race for congressman-at-large will be between George H. Bender the incumbent, and a fellow Clevelander, Democrat Stephen M Young. Young, congressman in 1933-36 and 1941-42, defeated T. L Thomas of Akron by better than a 5-2 margin. Unofficial totals from 9,151 of 9,385 polling places gave him 266,116 to 103,605 for Thomas. Bender was unopposed.

4-Leaf Clover Lucky? How About 6 Leaves

If one four-leaf clover brings good luck, friends of Mrs. Elizabeth Higley of 678 East George street are wondering just what is in store for her.

Looking over her flower beds recently, Mrs. Higley came upon a bed of clover and just like that — picked eight four-leaf clovers and for good measure added four six-leaf ones. Just what the six-lef ones portend, Mrs. Higley doesn't know.

Ohio Backs Taft

PRESENT indications are that Senator Taft will go to the Republican national convention with 44 of Ohio's 53 delegates—a fair measure of Ohio's confidence in his bid for the presidential nomination.

Taft's success in the presidential primary Tuesday proved that Harold E. Stassen overestimated his strength in a two-way contest with Ohio's senior senator. The nine delegates Stassen picked up were not enough to upset any applecart in presidential politics. They proved that Mr. Stassen can pull votes, but that was a matter that needed no proving after Wisconsin and Nebraska.

Two things must be remembered in making an estimate of the effect of the delegate contest in Ohio.

Stassen strategists sought 23 delegates in 11 congressional districts and the delegate-at-large slate. They selected the 11 districts with an eye to Senator Taft's showing in them when he ran against William Pickrel for the U.S. senate in 1946. Then they chose to run only one candidate for delegate-at-large in a field of 10, an arrangement that seemed to make their lone candidate, Carrington T. Marshall, a sure bet. Politically speaking, the dice were loaded in Mr. Stassen's favor. Yet the dice failed to perform as expected, particularly when Mr. Marshall failed to finish among the first nine candidates for delegate-at-large.

The other thing to remember is that contests for Ohio convention delegations are an old Buckeye custom, even when favorite sons are running. Among voters conscious of this precedent, the loss of delegates to outside contenders isn't evidence of weakness, unless the loss happens to be overwhelming. It wasn't overwhelming Tuesday.

If Mr. Stassen had won twice as many delegates as he did win, it would have been a setback for Senator Taft. But there has been no setback. Taft is still a major contender for the nomination—the chief contender, as far as Ohio Republicans are concerned. They have given him the support he has earned by his strong and capable leadership of the Republican party. They respect Mr. Stassen for making a good try, but they will continue to support Senator Taft—more strongly than ever now because he has taken his case to them directly and been given a fresh mandate.

Bonus for Enlistments

REPRESENTATIVE ALLEN of Illinois has proposed that military enlistments be encouraged by offering bonuses of $1,000 for two-year enlistments and $1,500 for three years. In addition, the Army would lower the adaptability score for recruits from 80 to 70. The proposal met with opposition from J. Chan Gurney, senate armed service committee chairman, who observed, "You can't buy security."

The plan will be quick to win support of draft and UMT opponents but will stir doubts in others. Such a system would tend to fill the Army's ranks with misfits, time-servers and minor miscreants in search of a home, the type that brought the Army's reputation to an all-time low during the '20's and '30's.

The Army should be set up so that it can liberally reward those who offer their skill, intelligence and best efforts to the service. But it shouldn't be required to put out the welcome mat for guardhouse candidates.

Waste of Diplomatic Effort

AS IT has done several times before, the state department has protested to the Franco government about criticism of President Truman in Spanish newspapers. As usual, the Franco government has replied that the Spanish press is free and not subject to government censure—a doubtful assertion. So the United States takes a rebuff, the criticism goes unretracted and no good purpose is served by the diplomatic exchange.

The state department doesn't protest when unfavorable references to the United States appear in the press of countries allowing freedom of speech; and it rejects foreign protests about items in the American press. By directing complaints to such countries as Spain, it in effect is recognizing the right of government to control the press. Even if such protests brought retractions, which they do not, such a concession would be a high price to pay for them.

Magic Words

THE latest development of the electric eye principle is a light that's turned on by voice command. All a person has to do is stand within three feet of it and say "Bright!" and lo, there is light.

If this can be done, it should be a simple matter to make doors that respond to "Open!" and all sorts of gadgets responsive to certain vowels. Fans, sweepers, juicers and furnaces will be poised waiting for the magic word that sends them into action. Perhaps there will be a magic word that will bring the old family bus to heel, rolling through electronically-operated garage doors and honking docilely as it comes. Then will it be wise to caution visitors, "be careful what you say around here. Even the walls have ears."

A President's Health

By RAYMOND MOLEY

PLAIN speaking is in order on the critical importance of the health and energy of a Chief Executive of the United States. Physical qualifications should be forecast among the requirements for that office. A solemn responsibility rests upon all delegates who will select candidates and upon those who write and speak for public guidance to take health into consideration in judging candidates.

MOLEY

To see intimately the day-to-day life of a President is to realize that his is the most demanding job in the nation—perhaps in the world. Some presidents, like Coolidge, have given the appearance of calm and leisure. But that was an illusion. Even Coolidge died after only four years of retirement, at 61, which was far short of the span which might have been expected in a man of such hardy stock.

The day of a president begins early, with bedside or breakfast conferences, messages and problems. He must then make decisions about what he shall do with his day. No one can make these decisions for him. Then he blocks out a good part of his office time into five, ten or fifteen-minute conferences and interviews. Everyone who sees him wants something. These short visits are hard work for the president. He must think fast about how he can answer the requests, respond to the obvious or pass the buck to a subordinate.

Must Speak With Caution

And he must at all times sedulously guard his tongue, for even a president's most casual utterances are carried forth and repeated dozens of times, despite injunctions of secrecy. He must eat his lunch in the midst of this intense mental strain, which any adult knows is not good for the system.

Afternoon passes with more conferences, public appearances and the study of grave matters of state. His cabinet members are exacting in their demands. They are anxious to cover or reinforce their decisions with presidential approval. They disagree and often quarrel among themselves. These rivalries are always carried to the president. In addition, purely formal events, like the calls of foreign ambassadors and other dignitaries, take time, poise and thought.

It must be remembered that a president cannot delegate top decisions. Every big problem must pass his desk, and only he can say the final word. This is true, no matter how competent his advisers may be.

Social Enjoyment Restricted

Evenings are often taken up with dinners, speeches or conferences. Official dinners are hardly enjoyed by anyone, especially by the host. Then, later, there is the inevitable pile of documents at the study table or beside the bed. How a president can sleep after such a day and before another similar day is a problem that each president has had to figure out for himself. Franklin Roosevelt was fairly fortunate in his temperament. But we all saw the wear and tear of years finally pinch out the flame of life.

There is no such thing as presidential routine. The president's life is filled with the unexpected. Modern governments live from crisis to crisis.

It ought to be added further that, since the president is the most carefully guarded person in the country, he sees before him every minute evidence of constant precautions by secret service officers. It is not particularly soothing to the nerves to be continually reminded that life is in danger. Three presidents have been assassinated. Others have had narrow escapes. This demands something of vitality, even in a brave man.

Four presidents have died from causes that were at least aggravated or precipitated by official strain. Another, Wilson, was hopelessly broken.

These are a few of the considerations that conscientous delegates to the Republican convention should have in mind as they meet in Philadelphia. A number of additional considerations will be presented in a subsequent column.

Industry's Next Headache

Billions Claimed Under "Overtime on Overtime."

A WAGE-AND-HOUR problem looming even larger than portal-to-portal pay threatens to be industry's next headache. For want of a better name, it is called "overtime on overtime" and might cost the nation's employers $6,000,000,000.

The issue centers around the method of computing the rate of pay mentioned in the Fair Labor Standards Act. The law does not define what the regular rate is. It merely states that pay for hours worked in excess of 40 per week shall be at a time-and-a-half rate.

Agreements with unions were reached on the assumption that the regular rate referred to in the law meant the straight-time rate of a contract. This understanding was general on the part of management and labor until a Second District Appeals Court ruling put a new light on the regular-rate concept. It held that within the meaning of the act it was the average hourly wage received by a worker in any specific week.

This means to the court that the regular pay rate should be the number of hours worked divided into total pay received, including overtime, bonuses, incentive pay and all other extras. If the court's ruling is upheld, it would mean employers would have to pay statutory overtime for all hours in excess of 40. They previously may have paid contract overtime, but now the court holds they must pay statutory overtime computed on contract overtime already paid. Thus the phrase "overtime on overtime."

On one hour's work for $1, the extra money due might be only 12 cents, but since the ruling applies to the years of war production, when workers were on the job 20 or 30 hours extra per week, the potential totals run into astronomical numbers. Industry is now reviewing its payrolls, averaging the hourly wage for each worker per week, computing amounts due.

Employers who paid the most liberal wages and bonuses would be the hardest hit. Joseph P. Ryan, head of the International Longshoremen's Union, whose members brought the original suit, has testified before congress, placing the union on record as opposed to the suits. He says they might wipe out "all the gains we have made for our men in 35 years."

Basically, the trouble arose from vague phraseology of the law. It provided a windfall not expected by labor or contemplated by management.

How To Time an Airplane

High and Low Pitched Whistles Tell the Speed.

AROUND 1919, when airplanes traveled at a top speed of 160 miles an hour, it was a simple matter to time them with a stopwatch. But now that they are flying at four-times that speed, elaborate split-second camera timers are used, reports the Boeing Magazine.

Cameras shooting 500 frames of film a second are set up with microscopic accuracy at each end of a measured course. The plane being timed flies the course twice in each direction as the cameras whir. On the film goes not only a picture of the plane as it flashes past, but also the precision pulsing of a calibrated tuning fork, projected in the form of a tiny light beam. From the known intervals in the vibrations of the tuning fork plus the plane's progress across the measured strip as recorded on film, mathematicians are able to make accurate speed computations. This is the only timing method accepted by the Federation Aeronautique Internationale, which decides what records are official.

For unofficial but equally important speed data, areonautical engineers are able to compute speeds up to 350 miles an hour by a trailing pilot tube. For higher speeds they rely on electronic application of the Doppler effect first officially noted by Christian Johann Doppler of Vienna in 1842. Everyone is familiar with the Doppler effect. Stand at a railroad crossing and notice that a whistle of a locomotive becomes higher as the train approaches, lower as it passes. The faster train moves the more pronounced the difference in pitch.

Measured on the right instruments, that locomotive whistle could reveal the train's speed more accurately than the speedometer in the engine cab.

The Doppler effect holds equally true for radio waves. A radio Doppler system was worked out at Langley Field, Va., in 1941, involving two ground stations 14 miles apart. The test plane had to fly at low altitude on a direct course between them. The plane carried a transmitter, and receivers at the two ground stations were tuned to the plane transmitter and to an auxiliary ground transmitter on nearly the same frequency. Thus both receivers got a heterodyne whistle at the same audible frequency. A telephone line connected the two ground stations and fed the two whistles into an oscillograph or pulsation counter. As the airplane flew the course the station behind the plane got a lower pitched note while the station ahead got a higher note. The oscillograph measured the difference and thus the speed of the plane was obtained.

Since then the Doppler system has been improved so that a test plane may fly at any height within a 50-mile radius of a single ground station. The only requirement is that the plane fly either directly toward or away from the station. A ground station transmits to the plane, which takes the signal, doubles its frequency and shoots it back at the ground station where its frequency is doubled again. When the two doubled frequencies are compared (that is, heterodyned or "beat" against each other) their difference is the Doppler frequency.

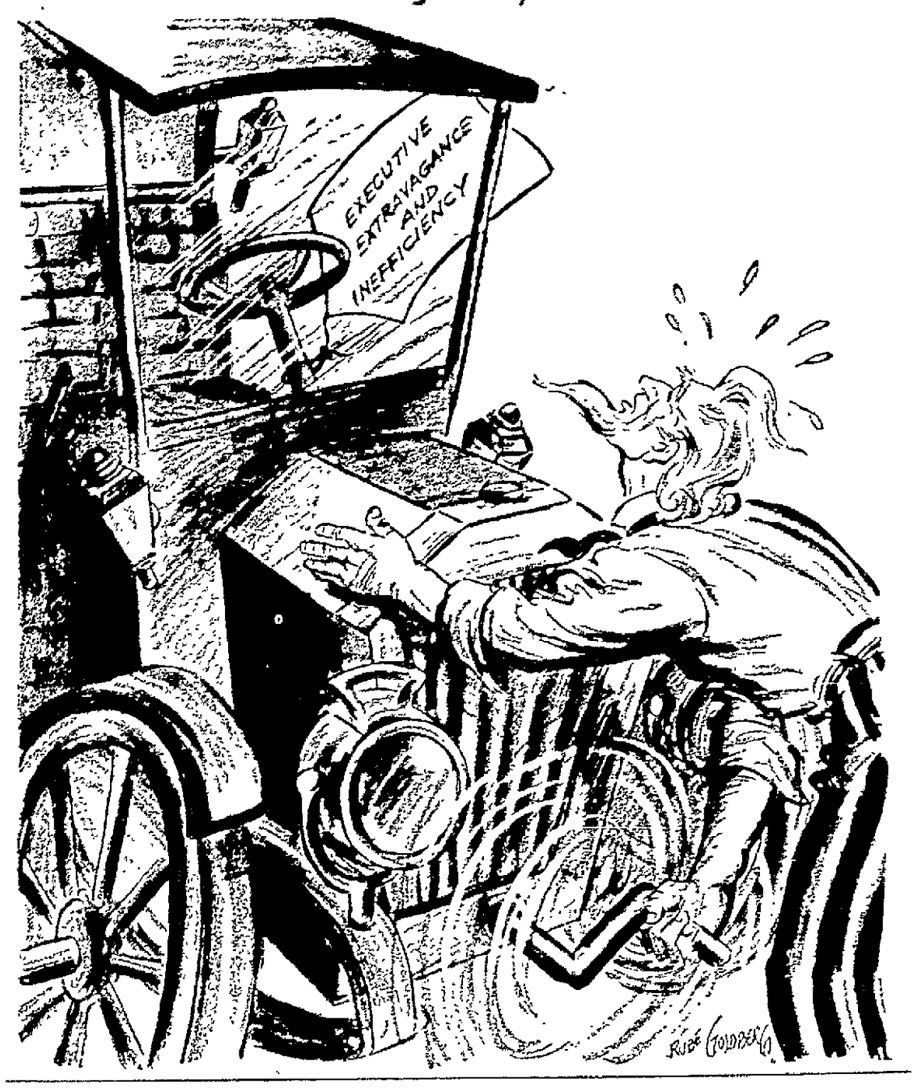
A federal court has ruled that a swindler's income is subject to taxation.

Doesn't that make Uncle Sam an accessory after the swindle?

Or only after the swag?

At any rate, this seems to answer my question as to whether it's just an oversight there's no place on the income tax blank to list "Ill-gotten Gains."

Streamlining Badly Needed



From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Friday, May 6, 1938.

The United States Chamber of Commerce began a nationwide campaign to win support for a business improvement program based on a minimum of government regulation and on new employer relations with labor.

Members of the Business Women's club entertained with a Mother's Day dinner at Ringer's Inn. Guests included Mrs. A. J. Sautter, Mrs. Grant Slagle, Mrs. Clara Hildreth, Mrs. Charles Reynolds, Mrs. Glen McKinley, Mrs. Effie Williams and Miss Sarah Sheedy.

Mrs. John Huber of east of Marion returned from a four months' visit in California.

Mrs. Christina Bender and Mrs. Margaret Bender entertained the Ladies Aid society of the Salem Evangelical and Reformed church at the home of Mrs. John Hoelzer on Orchard street.

Amos J. Eibling of Indianapolis was visiting his sister, Miss Edith Eibling of Bain avenue.

Marion sharpshooters lost by two points to the Columbus Pistol team in a target match at the Marion Revolver association meet at the Eagles building. The visiting squad scored 691 and the locals 689. Scores for the Marion teams were: M. N. Landes 179; Ralph Feld 175; Leo Groll 175; E. P. McAtee 160; total 689.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Sunday, April 6, 1928.

Joseph De Barthe, 60, who for several years had been located here in the practice of a special branch of the medical profession, died in the City hospital following a stroke of apoplexy.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Orda Harper of Reed avenue.

Mrs. L. B. Roseberry of North State street entertained a company of friends at her home in honor of her husband, who was to leave soon for the U. S. Marine hospital in Cleveland for treatment.

Miss Cara Bliss Metz of LaRue and Gerald B. Hewitson of South State street were united in marriage at the Presbyterian church in LaRue by the pastor, Rev. R. L. Reynolds.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy E. Neal celebrated their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary with a reception for friends at their home in Morral.

The Marion Eagles baseball team defeated the Springfield Kibler team at Lincoln park, 4 to 1. Stull pitched for Marion.

A Palestine Solution

By Walter Lippmann

THE statement made to the United Nations on Palestine by the British colonial secretary, Arthur Creech Jones, is an auspicious event. That is not only because it is the most sensible and useful contribution yet made to the discussion, but because it shows that Great Britain, now that she is about to be relieved of her thankless burdens as the ruler of Palestine, is preparing to take a leading part, which no one else can take, in working out a general settlement.

LIPPMANN

British leadership is indispensable to a settlement because, as a matter of fact, what has to be settled is the relationship between the Jewish state, which already exists de facto, and the Arab kingdom of Tran-Jordan, which is a British protectorate.

In this situation Britain has a dual role: as one of the great powers in the UN responsible for making and keeping peace; as the one great power which by treaty and by its military and financial connections is responsible for the conduct of the only Arab state which can wage a serious war or make a genuine peace in Palestine. These two roles are not contradictory but complementary.

What Creech Jones has proposed is that the UN give up the notion of creating and imposing a new regime in Palestine, and that it concentrate its efforts on mediation between the Jewish and the Arab communities. To do this he suggests the appointment of a commission, which would hold, so to speak, in escrow the legal titles to the undivided assets of Palestine, and would seek to arrange a truce, then presumably a treaty of alliance or confederation, between the de facto provisional governments of the Arab and the Jewish communities.

This suggestion disposes of the false problem which has so confused and obscured the real problem. It does away with the imaginary problem that partition was something to be "enforced" by an international army, that a unified country had to be divided forcibly from the outside.

New Responsibility

It does away with the imaginary solution that partition could be renounced or abandoned. It recognizes the plain fact that partition has occurred, that "services, once run by the central government, are now in the hands of Jewish and Arab communities; and that, psychologically, a new sense of responsibility toward the maintenance by each community, of its own life, has been created."

The real problem, therefore, is not whether Palestine is to be partitioned, or whether it ought to be, but how—since partition has occurred—a truce, a peace, and finally some form of confederation can be negotiated and accepted.

In this the role of Trans-Jordan is crucial. For events have shown that the Arab guerrillas in Palestine are no match for the Haganah, and that they lack the organization and the force to establish a provisional government. It is reasonably certain that they must lean on King Abdullah and his little Trans-Jordan army.

It follows that the military truce, which everyone must desire, will have to be arranged between the Haganah and the Trans-Jordan army, and that a political peace will have to be negotiated between the kingdom of Trans-Jordan and the provisional government of the Jewish state.

For that there is needed the mediation of Great Britain, closely and sympathetically supported by the United States, and operating with the moral authority of the United Nations.

It is fairly evident that the real problem, as respects King Abdullah, is how to enable him to enter Palestine for the purpose of annexing the Arab territory and of making a treaty with the Jewish state.

Must Be Restrained

Obviously neither the British government nor the United Nations can permit him to enter Palestine for the purpose of annexing the whole of it. They are bound to restrain him from doing that. But they have at the same time every reason to make arrangements by which he is invited to come in to the Arab territory peaceably and to participate in the negotiation of a treaty of settlement.

That requires the exercise of British influence to restrain him from aggression, and of British statesmanship, with American and United Nations support, to make the enlargement of his kingdom an orderly process. Almost certainly it requires also a promise of reinforcements by which he can protect himself against conspiracies and assassinations on the part of the grand mufti and his other Arab enemies.

For it is the danger of being stabbed in the back that almost certainly stands in the way of his playing the part which is so greatly in the interest of his kingdom, his dynasty and of the peace and prosperity of Palestine.

It would seem to be indicated, therefore, that Britain and the United States should strengthen the military position in Trans-Jordan, that they should in fact make that sparsely inhabited but strategically important country their principal military position in the Middle East. What needs to be done to solve the problem of Palestine needs also to be done to solve the problem of maintaining the position of the western world in the Middle East.

Daily Bible Thought

It has taken nearly two thousand years to banish brutality from courts of justice. In all Christian lands a man on trial is held to be innocent till his guilt has been proven. "If I have spoke evil, bear witness of the evil, but if well why smitest thou me?"—John 18:23.

The number of active volcanoes is estimated at between 300 and 400.

Something for Survivors

By TRUMAN TWILL

Due to circumstances beyond control, this correspondent has become involved in arrangements for a class reunion. Among other things he is supposed to prepare a letter for distribution to all former classmates, whooping up the occasion.

Whoop.

If an honest confession would be acceptable instead, the letter would read something like this:

* * *

Dear Survivor: Hoping this finds you alive and not too arthritic. Wipe the mashed potatoes off your bifocals and spare a few minutes of your time for what is supposed to be a sentimental interlude, but isn't.

It has been a long time since the Class of Umpty-Umpty graduated. You bet it has. You should see what has happened to some of the other members. But there is a custom that after so and so many years there should be a reunion anyway.

This is so all survivors with the time and money can return to the scene of their crimes and tell lies about their school-day antics. These are known as reminiscences and are a precious feature of all class reunions.

Unfortunately, there is nothing without a price. The price of a reunion is the disillusionment thereof. The fat have grown fatter and the sallow have grown sallower. Women who were beautiful when they were young look just like all other middle-aged women now that they're middle-aged.

People who were going to be world-beaters proved to be egg-beaters instead. The survivor who has made the most money—remember this is a form letter—was the class member with the pointed head and the rating: Least likely to succeed.

You have nothing in common with the others any more and it will be obvious. Meanwhile they'll be trying to keep the same thing from being obvious to you. It's an awkward situation. You won't like it.

You're not as young as you were—and you show it. You would like to forget this. But at the reunion dozens of people will remind you of it. Naturally, you'll pretend you're being philosophical, but don't kid yourself. No one ever can be philosophical about a subject as tender as departed youth.

That's what class reunions are supposed to be. They plunge the white-hot poker of emotion into the aching wounds of recollection. Reunions are a form of ordeal for survivors. Enclosed are suitable blanks for various reservations that must be made and kindly do not overlook the one that tells you how much money it's going to take to finance the forthcoming imbroglio that will make you resolve never to do it again, not even if you survive until the 50th, which is improbable.

Did You Know

The summer seal colony in the Pribilof Islands numbers about two million and formerly numbered 5,000,000, but owing to former ruthless killing methods it once was reudced to only 250,000.

Impressive ruins of the ancient Greek city of Heliopolis remain in what is now Syria, although the old Greek and Roman structures were used as quarters for a century and have been repeatedly shaken by earthquakes and mutilated by conquerors.

ADDRESSES FOREMEN AT MONTHLY MEETING

Harry Coopland of Painesville Is Club Speaker.

Harry Coopland o. Painesville, a member of the National Association of Foremen spoke at a meeting of the Marion Foremens club Tuesday night at Columbian hall.

Mr. Coopland's speech, entitled "It Can Be Done," in its more serious phases dealt with the character of foremen. He said that foremen are human beings and that a more congenial attitude toward foremen by men under them and toward one another would be conducive to greater production. The remainder of his speech however was devoted to stories, yarns and anecdotes that kept the 97 attending foremen and guests in an uproar.

Aside from the speech and a social hour held during the meeting, 17 names were submitted by the nominating committee from which seven directors will be elected at a June 1 meeting to be held at Columbian hall. H. H. Doutnitt, club president presided.

Roving Reports

By Hal Boyle

LEAD, S.D.

A GOLD miner is about as likely to see an elephant underground as he is gold.

And if he did see it he probably wouldn't recognize it. This is one of the odysseys of digging out the yellow metal that gives the boys at Fort Knox something to guard and provides the nation's dentists something to fill a tooth besides an ache.

"It is very rare to find free specks of gold," said Harlan Walker, assistant general manager of the Homestake Mine, largest in the Americas.

Hal Boyle

"Miners can work years here and never see any."

Many miners can't even determine ore-bearing from waste or "country rock." Stakes worth working are outlined by skilled mining engineers.

Gold mining is an intricate industry comparable in many ways to an automobile factory. It takes many skills to wrench from one ton of ore its final produce—barely enough gold to make a man's wedding ring. And it may cost $200,000 or more to blast through country rock to reach an ore body worth working.

Practically everything taken out of the mine is put back in with one noteworthy exception—the gold. After the ore has been crushed and passed through meshes of a screen finer than the sifting cloth used in flour mills, the waste sand is pumped back into the mine as "fill" to prevent walls collapses.

GOLD MINERS are a hardy, snuff-chewing crew who hold a high disdain for coal miners. They work a seven-hour, six-day week and the top workers earn $12 to $15 a day. They live a mile above sea level here and work a mile from their homes—straight down.

Their chief task is drilling seven-foot holes in the tunnel face and stuffing them with dynamite which they set off at the end of their shift. Laborers then do the mucking—loading the blasted ore with power shovels.

Some idea of the size of the operations in this massive mine that has produced $460,000,000 in 79 years:

It produces 1,400,000 tons of ore in a normal year.

It pumps out 500 gallons of water a minute and pumps in 295,000 cubic feet of fresh air.

It has 37 levels, 120 miles of tunnels.

It burns 773 miles of fuse a year to set off 3,000,000 sticks of dynamite—some 100,000 pounds a month.

It uses 1,000,000 feet of timber a month.

Its giant main hoists can haul up nine-ton loads of ore at three times the speed of the fastest passenger elevators in New York skyscrapers.

AT PRESENT the gold mining industry in the United States is in a slump. The Homestake mine is operating at only about 60 per cent capacity.

"Before the war the United States produced 14 per cent of the world's gold each year," Walker said. "Now it produces only about 5 per cent.

"The reasons? The present ceiling price on gold, shortage of labor, higher costs and high taxes."

It takes 20 days and incredible labor to harvest from 35 tons of undug ore in the mine the one pound or less of gold bullion that emerges from the refinery.

But Walker is weary of people who say:

"Why go to all that trouble? It is just taken out of one hole here and put back into another hole at Fort Knox."

His reply:

"If the gold wasn't mined the country would soon find out how important it is. It has many industrial uses—and there never was a nation that felt it had enough for money."

One indication of its value: They can burn the suit of coveralls worn by a refinery worker here and recover enough gold dust to buy three new suits.

POINT TO BENEFIT OF RAIL COMBINE

By The Associated Press

BALTIMORE, May 6—Stockholders at the Allegany Corporation's annual meeting yesterday were told the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad would benefit from a tie-up with the New York Central because the step would help C. & O handle coal from newly exploited sources.

Robert W. Purcell, vice president of the corporation and vice chairman of the C. & O. board of directors, explained why the road has requested the interstate commerce commission to grant it two seats on the New York Central board.

In answer to a "friendly inquiry," Purcell said the C. & O. is tapping new coal fields expected to add 25,000,000 to 300,000,000 tons a year to its present tonnage.

"We are now running trains as fast and as close as we can," he said. "The New York Central has excellent access to large consumers. It also has a large traffic soliciting organization."

Another development of the meeting was the election of Andres Van Pelt of New York as a new member of the corporation's board of directors. He succeeds George Estin of New York.

The Allegany Corporation is the principal stockholder of the Chesapeake and Ohio.

Martel School Music Festival Tomorrow

The music department of Martel school will present its annual spring music festival Friday at 8 p m in the school auditorium with Mrs. Margaret Bernow, music instructor in the school, in charge.

Included in the program will be a group of songs and folk games by the first and second grades, several songs and dances from "Hansel and Gretel" by the third and fourth grades, a vocal duet by Thomas Hayes and Evert Rinehart, a piano solo by Marlene Wierick, and numbers by the fifth and sixth grade chorus, the boys glee club, the girls glee club, and the girls ensemble.

Accompanists for the festival are Martha Weidemaier and June Ann Hissong. The program is open to the public and no admission will be charged.

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION PLANS FUTURE PROGRAM

Plans for future activities were discussed by the Marion County Ministerial association at a meeting Monday at the YMCA. Rev. E H. Wierth presented a paper on "Protestantism Today," and analysis, and was voted the appreciation of the association for his study of the subject.

Discussion was held on possibility of bringing to Marion the Wings Over Jordan Negro chorus for an appearance, and Rev J. B Holloway presented the idea of having Sam Morris of Texas, prominent in religious work, speak at a union service. It was reported that in the field of weekday religious education, a committee of the Marion County Council of Churches is making plans to formulate and carry out some system of religious instruction for children of the community following, the national supreme court ban on such classes in the public schools setup.

Rev. R. W. Faulkner brought to the attention of the association the possibility of Marion participating in the future in a national Christian teaching mission project.

ROCKFORD, Ala., May 6—Alabama's huge governor, James E. (Kissin' Jim) Folsom, vacationed his "most eligible bachelor" post today and honeymooned with a beautiful new bride half his age and little more than half his size.

The six-foot eight-inch Folsom was wed to tiny Jamelle Moore, 21-year-old former secretary on the governor's staff, in a surprise ceremony here yesterday.

The governor and his new first lady left immediately on a wedding trip to Florida. Friends and relatives would not tell exactly where the couple had gone.

The bride's father is a state employe, a clerk in the Alabama revenue department, and an old political friend of the governor.

Everyone in the state seemed surprised at the news of the wedding except the brides mother, Mrs. E. M. Moore. She said Folsom had been "courting Jamelle for two years more or less" and she had been expecting the marriage.

The 59-year-old widowed governor is currently facing a paternity suit filed by a blond divorcee, Mrs Christine Putman Johnston. Mrs. Johnston, a native of Folsom's home county, claims that Folsom is her common-law husband and father of her 22-month-old son.

Folsom has two daughters, Rachel 8 and Melissa, 4.

In Tuesday's Democratic primary election in Alabama, Folsom's incumbent John J. Sparkman suffered his first popularity setback. Folsom himself ran far back in a third. His second candidate race for del gate-at-large to the was beaten more than 4 to 1 by [illegible] convention.

Cities' Water Rights Upheld

May Refuse Supply to Outside Communities, State Court Rules.

By International News Service

COLUMBUS, May 6—The right of a city to refuse to furnish water service to its surrounding communities was upheld by the state supreme court today.

In a 4-to-2 decision, the high court reversed the first district court of appeals and dismissed a writ of mandamus granted to the operators of the Indian Hill subdivision ouside Cincinnati ordering the city to extend its water service.

The decision may have a far reaching effect. Many subdivisions which have rebuffed annexation to cities because of tax rate advantages could possibly be forced into union by a threat to cut off their water supply.

The decision was written by Judge Matthias and concurred in by Judges Turner, Hart and Sohngen. Chief Justice Weygandt and Judge Zimmerman dissented, while Judge Stewart, a resident of Cincinnati, did not vote.

The court held that a city may sell its surplus water in such quantities and in such manner as it deems to be to its best interests.

Restore to Pension Roll

In another decision, the high court granted four writs of mandamus ordering the Cleveland police and fire pension systems to restore 21 former police and firemen to the pension rolls.

The 21 had been discontinued because they were employed by political subdivisions in other capacities after their retirement.

The court held that they were entitled to pensions as vested rights because they went on the rolls prior to a 1937 enactment of a law suspending pension payments to those who re-entered public employment.

The largest judgment ever granted by the Franklin county courts—a $225,000 injury claim of a railroad brakeman who lost both legs when he fell from a train—was admitted to review by the high court. The tribunal agreed to admit the appeal to the Pennsylvania railroad from the judgment granted to Earl D. Bartelbaugh.

Uphold Appeal Court

The third district court of appeals was upheld when the high court refused to admit the child custody case involving six-year-old Daniel B. Fritz and his six-year-old brother Dennis of Lima and Wapakoneta.

The children's estranged parents formerly lived in Lima. The father then brought the children to the Auglaize county seat and placed them in the care of an aunt.

When the mother sought to recover her children, the aunt filed a suit in the Auglaize county juvenile court asking they be declared neglected children and that they be placed in her custody. The court so ruled, but was reversed by the appellate court on the ground that the Auglaize court had no jurisdiction and that the suit should have been filed in Allen county.

TAFT PLEASED. Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) smiles broadly in Washington during a news conference, as he asserts that he won a "victory" over Harold E. Stassen in their fight for Ohio's Republican presidential nominating delegates. Taft looms as probable winner of 14 of Ohio's 23 contested delegates.

Pfc. Messmer was killed in action in France, July 23, 1944. He entered the service Oct. 12, 1942 and was sent to the reception center in Toledo, and from there to Camp Livingston, Ga., and later to Camp Hood, Tex. RESPONSE IS GOOD TO DONATION PLEA

Furniture and Money Given for Fire Victims.

Fire Chief Owen A. Sifritt reported a good response to the joint plea issued by his department and by Police Chief W. E. Marks for donations to aid Misses Dorothy and Christine Reichert, recent victims of a fire which destroyed their home on North State street.

"Chief Marks and I have received quite a bit of clothing and furniture donations so far," said Chief Sifritt, "and we have received $50 in donations of money, a donation of a truck and driver to haul building material and furniture, and materials for a roof have been donated.

"Already a local craftsman has offered a donation of his time and tools and he will build the house for the sisters if we can get enough money to buy materials. In addition to the $50 we have we need approximately $100 or more for the purchase of materials. We have been able to arrange for the purchase at a very reasonable figure of some war surplus building panels of wood which can be quickly erected if we can only secure the necessary money to buy them and a few concrete block to place under the building for a foundation."

Johnston Gives Views

By The United Press

CLEVELAND, May 6—Alvanley Johnston, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, said today he was uncertain whether government seizure of the railroads could avert the strike set for next Tuesday.

"I don't know whether we can legally strike if the government seizes the railroads," Johnston said. He added that if the government were empowered to do so, the rail unions would "obey the law."

"We are not in Russia," Johnston said. "If we don't like the law, we'll obey it and then do our utmost to get it changed in a democratic way."

Victim of Leukemia, 4-Year-Old Girl, Dies

CLEVELAND, May 6 — Death came today to four-year-old Donna Sue Patrick, whose suffering from leukemia brought thousands of greeting cards to her house from sympathetic strangers.

This morning, while her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Patrick, stood by, life ebbed swiftly from the pretty, blue-eyed child as she slept.

Since last March when news stories of her illness appeared nationally, bulging bags of mail have been arriving for Donna Sue—some from persons as far away as Tokyo. There were cards, dolls and letters, including one from President Truman. So many came that the child began sharing them with hospital patients.

Her father and mother feel the letters helped prolong their child's life.

Hopes for Meat Strike Settlement Fade

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, May 6 — Hopes faded today for an early settlement of the nationwide meat strike, now in its eighth week.

The government's latest efforts to end the walkout of some 100,000 CIO packinghouse workers broke off yesterday with no indications the union and the four major packers were close to an agreement on their wage dispute.

Both sides apparently are standing pat in their controversy over wages. The union continued to reject the nine-cent an hour pay raise. The major packers—Cudahy, Swift, Armour and Wilson—refused to boost the amount. The union had asked a hike of 29 cents.

The captain of the vessel radioed Coast Guard headquarters here that the ship had been hemmed in by a floating ice pack. He said she was taking water in the after part of her hull. Coast Guard officials believed the vessel was the 119-foot schooner "Tootsie" but said they were not positive of the identification. They dispatched the Coast Guard cutter Bittersweet to the schooner's aid from Cold Bay, Alaska.

Pen Prisoner Punished For Peddling of Drugs

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 6—One Ohio penitentiary prisoner has been placed in solitary confinement for peddling drugs taken from nasal inhalers, acting Warden Ralph Alvis reported today.

Alvis withheld the name of the prisoner, but said he already had been tried and convicted before the penitentiary's summary court.

The drug, which produces a five to six-hour jag followed by nausea when chewed, comes in strips in nasal inhalers. Alvis said each strip could be cut into eight "shots," worth $1 to $2 each, depending on the supply. One hundred strips or 800 "shots," believed to be the entire lot inside the wall, have been confiscated, he added.

Alvis said penitentiary officers so far had been unable to find out who was supplying the drug from the outside. All Columbus druggists and wholesale drug houses were asked to check records for any large individual sales of the inhalers.

Ohio School Pupils Continue Walkout

By The Associated Press

AKRON, O., May 6—Leaders of striking high school pupils at nearby Copley promised today the walkout would continue until action is taken on rehiring the school's former principal.

The dispute, involving about two-thirds of 300 pupils in the consolidated high school, began Tuesday in protest against the firing of Principal Frank Weiss.

The striking pupils rode to school on school buses yesterday, set up a picket line and ate in the school cafeteria. They did not report for any classes, however.

Picketing was halted after two deputies said the students could not prevent other pupils from entering the building.

School Superintendent E. R. Malone said classes would continue to be held and expressed hope of "additional pupils returning."

He said Weiss was not given a new contract because he "lacked leadership."

TAFT AND WOLCOTT IN SPLIT ON HOUSING

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 6 — [illegible] house Republican leadership sharply today with Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) in an angry row over housing.

Chairman Wolcott (R-Mich) of the house banking committee snapped a defiant "not interested" at the senate-passed stopgap bill to revive the government's $6" home loan insurance program until June 30.

Wolcott opened a deep gash for the bill when he made it clear he spoke for other house GOP leaders in telling a reporter:

"The senate was informed last week that the house is not interested in a short term continuation. The house banking committee has not scheduled any hearings on the senate's 60-day extension bill and it does not anticipate any."

Wolcott's plain brush-off brought into the open the [illegible] smouldering housing dispute between a senate group led by Taft and a house group headed by Wolcott. Taft is chairman of the senate Republican policy committee.

The main issue in the senate is the Taft-Ellender-Wagner low rent housing bill designed to spur the construction of 15,000,000 new homes by 1958. The senate passed the bill two weeks ago. Wolcott's committee is holding hearings on it.

Wolcott left no doubt he regards the senate insurance extender, backed by Taft, as a move to force his committee to send the TEW bill to the house floor intact with its controversial section providing for 500,000 government-owned and operated public housing units.

Yesterday, after another round of hot debate, the senate passed its stop-gap 60-day extender to revive the government's loan insurance power which expired last Friday night.

Before the bill passed and went to the house, the senate smashed down, 43 to 28, an amendment by Sen. Cain (R-Wash) to strip the T-E-W bill and extend it three months next March, as the house did [illegible] suspended for three years by Municipal Judge W. Dexter Hare yesterday when he pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated. He was arrested by city police at 1:41 a. m. Tuesday

PLANS GOLD STAR MOTHERS' BONUSES

By The United Press

COLUMBUS May 4—The next Ohio general assembly will be asked to raise extra money to pay a special bonus to Gold Star mothers, Ed D Schorr, attorney for the Ohio Bonus commission, said today.

Schorr pointed out that Michigan already has appropriated $2,000,000 to pay a bonus to mothers of men who lost their lives in the service. He said he will go before the legislature when it meets next January with a similar request.

"Ohio should make some arrangement to take care of Gold Star mothers on a basis of dependency," Schorr said. "If the boy was living with the parents when he went into service and later married, I think the parents should be entitled to a bonus payment."

In some cases, the bonus commission attorney added, the plan would provide paying two bonuses—one to the widow and another to the mother.

As the constitutional amendment creating the bonus fund now stands, a dozen of service men have the right to collect the bonus even though they have remarried.

Although the constitutional amendment spelled out the way the bonus should be paid, Schorr said it would be a simple matter for the legislature to provide for payments to Gold Star mothers and appropriate additional money to do so.

Schorr said he had asked the state organization of Gold Star mothers to name its members to serve on the commission and the chairman of the legislature should appoint one of the state senators and one member of the house of representatives to serve on the commission.

Red Blood Cells Must Be Kept Up If You Want To Feel Alive

Thousands Now Regaining Old Time Pep, Vigor and Drive By Releasing Vibrant Energy To Every Muscle, Fibre, Cell

Overwork, undue worry, and lack of certain foods often reduces the red-blood strength—and starved, weak, puny blood just hasn't the power to keep up your energy and drive.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that S.S.S. Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the S.S.S. Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, S.S.S. Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have less cause to get balky with gas, bloat and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Sharpen your body with rich, red-blood. Start on S.S.S. Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. S.S.S. Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

"What's Your Opinion, Mister?"

Fellow from one of those public opinion polls was in Andy's Garden Tavern, quizzing Andy a patron on everything from that "new look" to the next election.

And it occurred to me that there's nothing more typically American than to [illegible] opinions, as well as giving out with one's own. And from where I sit, it's a mighty healthy habit.

So long as people can discuss both sides of a question that comes up—whether it concerns short skirts versus long beer-corporated with order, or the larger issues of party versus party—we're sure of the individual liberty that has made this country great.

For it isn't differences of opinion that matter. The important thing is tolerance for differences of opinion—whether they affect the right of an individual to vote, to speak his mind, or enjoy a glass of beer. They're all parts of the freedom that we cherish!

MILLION-DOLLAR SUIT IN BOEING STRIKE

By The Associated Press

SEATTLE, May 6—The Boeing Airplane company and the striking 14,500 members of the Aeronautical Mechanics union jousted with a multi-million dollar suit and the threat of a counter suit today in the two-week tieup of heavy bomber production.

The company filed a Federal court action yesterday for $2,250,000 damages from the union under the Taft-Hartley act. The complaint served notice the claims would increase as the strike continues to halt output of B-50 bombers and other aircraft.

The union announced it was preparing a suit asking $163,000 for every day of the strike for loss of wages and $140,000 weekly to repay strike benefits to its parent organization, the International Association of Machinists.

With other actions contemplated, the total sought would run to $5,000,000 at this date, a spokesman said.

Money may also be asked to cover the cost of picketing, care for workers' welfare and other strike maintenance outlay, said union attorney L. Presley Gill.

Another contemplated action would demand that the company bargain with the union.

The company suit, also directed against the IAM, accused the local and the IAM of "causing and sanctioning" the strike in violation of a no-strike clause in the contract.

GREEK REBELS TRAIN WITH OTHER NATIONS

By The Associated Press

SALONIKA, Greece, May 6—Greek rebel forces are swelled by recruits trained secretly in nearby Albania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia, a Greek government group attached to the United Nations special committee on the Balkans reports.

Training camps for guerrillas have increased in size and number, the Greek liaison group says, and some are providing medical care for wounded shipped across the Greek frontier. The activity is carried on by the three northern neighbors of Greece, all within the Soviet orbit, in spite of a UN General Assembly request that nations close to the embattled country "do nothing which could furnish aid and assistance to the Greek guerrillas."

Members of the liaison group produced sworn statements taken from captured rebels rendered of the tensive by Greek porcers for to three we

One surrendered rebel said he spent two weeks in Bulgarian training camps and then crossed to join General Markos's forces were provided with arms and forms food and cigarets before they went home to fight their brothers.

Seven camps, all operated in high secrecy, are set up in the three countries, the Greek group asserted. Yugoslavian and Bulgarian camps alone, it said, can be ready in six weeks of both trained and reluctant raw material for battle.

And some Republicans never have liked the act. Republicans, as a party, traditionally have been for high tariffs to protect American businessmen and farmers from foreign competition in this country.

Some Republicans argue now that a number of American businessmen have been hurt by the competition from foreign goods allowed in here under the trade agreements act.

CONGRESS PROBABLY will renew the act another year, at least. But how? Just as it stands? Or will the Republican enemies of the act insist on making changes in it? If so, will those changes weaken the act?

Some of the Republicans are talking of making changes like these:

1. Letting congress have the right to approve or disapprove any agreements made. Would this slow up the whole machinery and cripple the act?

2. Letting a business man sue in court if he can show he's been injured by the act. He can't do that now. But he can appeal to the government to make a new agreement that won't injure him.

President Truman has asked congress to continue the act another three years. And the fight in congress has begun.

One of the chief critics of the act is Rep. Gearhart, California Republican. He's chairman of a house ways and means subcommittee.

That subcommittee has begun hearings—behind closed doors—for people and groups who are for or against the act. The members of the subcommittee have barred newspapermen and the public from the hearings.

Before June 12 Gearhart's group will make recommendations to congress on what it thinks should be done about the act: continuing it or changing it or killing it.

Your Good Health

By DR. HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Nervous Person Often Has Indigestion

Even in the absence of disease, some of us are stronger, more energetic, and in a better general state of health than others. In many people this lack of constitutional vigor takes the form of indigestion. Nothing is organically wrong with them, that is, they have no disease of the digestive system, but at the same time it does not function quite as it should.

Such people are highly nervous, over-irritable, and over-sensitive. Many worry too much about their symptoms and their troubles. It is scarcely strange that in this more or less constant state of tension, their nerves should begin to play tricks with their organs to produce all sorts of uncomfortable symptoms.

These persons often can be recognized by their cold, clammy hands; a slightly bluish color to the skin of the legs; rapid and noticeable beating of the heart; frequent emptying of the bladder, belching, and, at times, attacks of diarrhea. Such people do not stand up well under strain and infections may leave them exhausted for months.

Unfortunately, sometimes it takes quite some effort to rebuild these individuals into perfectly functioning persons. What must be done is to teach them to live within their physical means. They must learn how to put up with their discomforts and get rid of their fears and worries insofar as possible. They must be taught that their digestive attacks are in no way serious and will not lead to anything like cancer.

Many of these people have alternating attacks of diarrhea and constipation, together with some discomfort in the abdomen. Often they pass mucus with the bowel movement. Nervous excitement, cold, or the eating of some food that is difficult to digest may help to bring on the attacks. These persons are said to have mucous colitis, even though there is no actual inflammation of the bowel. Fortunately, this disorder is no more serious than the other digestive symptoms mentioned earlier and, like them, it should cause no great concern or worry. It should be remembered that even a normal bowel may be upset by nervous disturbances or dietary factors.

In cases of nervous indigestion, the treatment is to eliminate excessive strain, worry, and fear, and to employ a bland diet, that is, one which contains no highly seasoned foods or those containing too much bulk or roughage.

Certain sedatives or quieting preparations, such as phenobarbital, are often useful. Atropine also is helpful in some cases.

Some persons with so-called indigestion delevop their symptoms because of overeating. They get along all right as long as they eat small meals, but when excessive food is put into the stomach and bowels, symptoms of indigestion occur. Of course, the indigestion may also occur because of eating too fast or of eating when excited or upset.

In all cases of indigestion there is need for careful study to determine the cause before successful treatment may be employed.

At Least Nine State Legislators Defeated

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 6—Incomplete returns from Tuesday's primary showed today that at least nine members of Ohio's legislature failed to win renomination.

Paul L. McCormick of Huntsville, house majority leader, was the major casualty. He was nosed out by 24 votes by Roger Cloud, Logan county commissioner. A recount was considered likely.

Six other Republican members of the house also were defeated—C. F. Sharp of Vinton county, James L. Black of Miami, Claude Woodward of Montgomery, Harold Martz of Warren, Emerson C. Wagner of Perry and John M. Kerr of Columbiana.

...sir," I said demurely, and ...a gratifying start. "I like ...prise him when I can, for ...he tells me things, he gen... is most tantalizing."

"I suppose you mean he wants you to tell Olina what he's cooking up."

"Better than that," I murmured, smiling. "I give you three guesses."

"No you don't," he said as roughly as the prison murmur would permit. "You ladle out that particular spoonful of mush this second, or you go out of this car head first."

"My, my!" I mocked. "The 'drate big strong man'! But I'll humor you. Georges wishes me to tell Olina that the plan for the music with Noel at the piano, and for Mr. 'K.' as best man is mine. She is to make the decision, and I am to tell her that Georges and the FBI man are on the very best of terms."

"Just like that." Dicky kicked out his right foot violently, and I knew it was release from the task of keeping his voice down to a murmur. "Have you told 'K'?"

"Yes."

"What did he say? Go on! Give! I'm having to drag things out of you as if I were a stump puller."

"This is the last thing you're going to drag out of me," I murmured obstinately. "K." said he'd go through with it, if necessary, although he could think of two or three thousand other jobs he'd like better."

Dicky gave a guffaw which made the men in front turn their heads toward us.

"I hope you're satisfied," I hummed beneath my breath. Then I added a determined whisper.

"That's the last bit of news you're going to hear until we get home," I said, "I don't want to lie down, but I do want to snuggle up against you and doze."

"Okay," he responded promptly. "Just let me get set."

He moved to the end of the seat, took off his hat, put a cushion behind his head, and tucked another behind his back. Then he held out his hand, and I moved close to him in a routine familiar to us on similar journeys, snuggled my body close to his, and put my head against his shoulder. Dicky pulled a motor robe closely around both of us, tucking in the edges. Then he whispered: "Sometimes you're positively inspired. I could do with a nap myself."

"Don't fall off, or drop me," I whispered back.

"Do you want to get pinched or tickled?" he threatened, naming my two pet aversions. "If you do, spring another one like that."

"Good night," I said, closing my eyes.

"Good night!" he said, making the words emphatic, but I was too sleepy to care. I was dozing in another minute, sound asleep, I imagine, in two, and for the rest of the journey knew nothing save slumber, except for occasional dreams in which I vainly tried to out run Georges up an interminable hill.

When Dicky finally awakened me with the fingers-on-wrist gentle pressure which Katharine has taught us, I saw that we were crossing the Triboro bridge, and the lights of the city were before us, although much diminished in number because of the lateness of the hour.

"Wake-up, Sweet!" Dicky whispered, "and 'get on your old gray bonnet.' We're almost home, and Joe's going to make the hideaway before daylight, after dropping us at the Lansfield, if his luck holds."

PROSPECT CUBS MEET

A meeting of th- Prospect Cub Pack No. 23 was held in the Prospect school Tuesday with 20 Cubs and 33 parents and guests present. Entertainment for the evening consisted of three skits, and group singing led by Mrs. Ruth Emery with Miss Alice Anson as accompanist. A recreation period which included volley ball, basketball and other sports, under the direction of Frank Guerriora, assistant Cub Master, followed by refreshments, concluded the meeting. The meeting was opened by John Guthrie, Cub Master, who led the group in a pledge of allegiance to the flag.

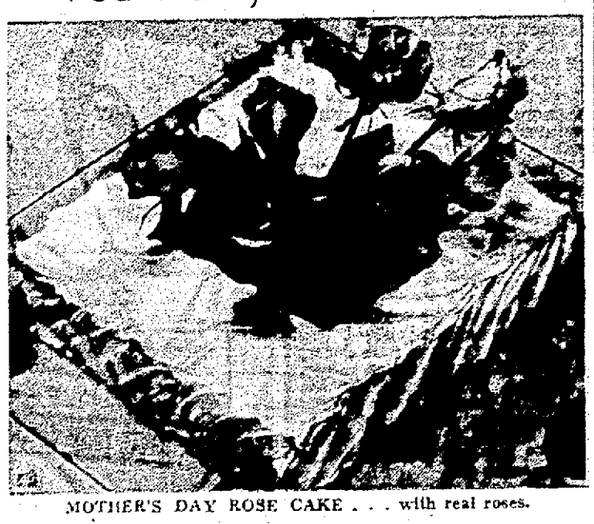
Tea Party for Mother



MOTHER'S DAY ROSE CAKE . . . with real roses.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Have you thought of rounding up mothers and daughters for a Mother's Day Tea? The Saturday before Mother's Day would be a good time for the celebration. When I was in public school I was always sorry that my mother knew so few of the mothers of my classroom friends, and I have a feeling lots of youngsters feel the same way now. This would be a good occasion for a group of mothers and daughters to get acquainted.

The tea itself can be simple with beverages, sandwiches and a special cake. Add ice cream or sherbet, of course, if you like. If you choose to make the Rose Cake pictured you'll have something unusually lovely. Although the cake may sound complicated when you first read the recipe that follows, actually the making of it isn't. You simply make four loaf cakes to form the large square cake, frost them with a fluffy pink frosting, and insert dark pink roses in the space left for a container in the center.

An unusually good, savory sandwich filling is made with a cup of finely ground cooked frankfurters, a half-cup of finely-chopped walnuts, a tablespoon of prepared mustard and a half-cup of mayonnaise or mayonnaise-type salad dressing.

Mother's Day Rose Cake

3¼ cups sifted all-purpose flour, 4 teaspoons double-action baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, 2/3 cup butter or margarine, 1½ cups sugar, ½ teaspoon rose extract, 2 eggs, 2/3 cup milk, 2/3 cup water.

Measure out ingredients 3 times. Mix one at a time in following manner. Cream butter or margarine, sugar and rose extract until light and fluffy. Add egg and beat well. Sift flour with baking powder and salt. Add about half of the dry ingredients to creamed mixture and about half the milk and water. Stir until smooth; add remaining dry ingredients, milk and water and stir only until batter looks creamy. Have ready four well-greased and floured heat-resistant glass loaf dishes. Fill one dish ¾ full. Repeat procedure and fill 2nd dish; repeat procedure and fill 3rd dish. Fill 4th dish with surplus from each mixing. Bake cakes in moderate (350° F.) oven about 45 mins. Remove from dishes. Cool on cake rack. Trim off edges to make sides perpendicular. Arrange loaves at right angles to each other to form a perfect square with open square in the middle. Frost with Fluffy Rose Frosting. Arrange a few fresh roses in flower stand in middle and garnish the corners. Four loaves form 1 large cake. 25 to 30 servings.

Fluffy Rose Frosting

2 cups sugar, 2/3 cup water, ½ teaspoon cream of tartar, 2 unbeaten egg whites, 1 teaspoon rose extract, red food color.

Combine sugar, water and cream of tartar in saucepan with tight-fitting cover. Boil 2 mins. Pour over unbeaten egg whites in large bowl and beat with electric beater or rotary beater. Use high speed or beat fast when syrup is added. Beat 7 to 10 mins. or until frosting stands in peaks. Add rose extract and color. Spread thickly on inside of loaves. Press together firmly to form square. Frost and swirl top as desired. Will frost four loaves.

Whip To Face Braves Today

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, May 6—Manager Johnny Neun shuffled the Cincinnati pitching pace today and ace Ewell Blackwell came up to face the Boston Braves in their first 1948 appearance here.

The Braves, victors over the Reds in three of six pre-season exhibitions, are rated by many as the team to beat in the 1948 National league pennant race. They stand one rung below the Redlegs in present standings, however, with six victories and 2 losses.

The Reds climbed two steps away from the cellar yesterday on Kent Peterson's 5-2 defeat of the New York Giants. The victory ended a four-game losing streak for the Reds.

Pitching five-hit ball, Peterson was in trouble only once. An error by Hank Sauer, a single and his only walk loaded the bases, so Ott sent Walker Cooper in to pinch hit for catcher Wes Westrum. Cooper hit a long foul to Sauer, ending the threat.

The Giant runs came on homers—one by Johnny McCarthy in the eighth and another by Bobby Thompson in the ninth.

The Reds cut loose in the first inning, getting two runs on an error by McCarthy and then Sauer scored after Ray Lamanno's long fly was caught.

Red Stallcup singled to open the second frame. He advanced on Peterson's sacrifice and scored as Frankie Baumholtz singled to center. The fifth Redleg score came in the third as Grady Hatton collected his second homer of the season, a drive over the right field fence on the first pitched ball.

Galion Tygers Top Ashland, 2-0

GALION, May 6—The Galion baseball team added Ashland to list of victims, 2-0, here Wednesday after taking Marion Harding, 4-1, Tuesday.

Ray Setf, 14-year-old pitcher for Galion allowed only one hit and that was made by Ashland's pitcher, Dick Messner. Galion made three hits in the game, scoring two runs in the last half of the final seventh inning.

The Tigers will play in the district tournament at Mansfield Friday—their opponents to be the winners of the Ashland-Mansfield game.

Prisoner Bound Over On Charge of Robbery

Isaac Lawrence, 34, of 183 Senate street was bound over to the Marion county grand jury by Judge Hazen under $1,500 bond at 3 p. m. afted he pleaded not guilty in municipal court to the charge of armed robbery filed Tuesday after his apprehension by city police.

Clyde Smith, a Yellow Cab driver identified Lawrence as the colored passenger who held a knife to his throat and robbed him of $10 early Tuesday morning as the cab was on Tyler street enroute to an east side address.

Russell Dellaford, a Safety Cab driver also identified Lawrence Tuesday as the colored passenger he had thrown from his cab Tuesday morning enroute to Bryant street after the passenger had threatened him with a knife.

Lawrence now is in county jail awaiting action by the grand jury. He failed to raise $1,500 bond.

VIEW RESULTS OF STORM

ASHLEY—Rev. H. L. Borden has arrived at the Ashley Methodist parsonage from Ridgeville, Ind., where he and Mrs. Borden were called by the results of the severe cyclone that struck that vicinity earlier in the week. It was the same storm that hit Greeneville, O. Mrs. Malinda Macy, mother of Mrs. Borden, resides with her son Merle Macy in Ridgeville. She and her elderly sister Mrs. Mary Moody, were sitting in the kitchen eating, and they and five others in the home had no warning until neighbors rushed in and asked for shelter in the cellar. Chester Macy, a brother, and his family, of near Winchester, Ind., were visiting in the home. All escaped injury except Mrs. Moody, who suffered minor cuts. All windows were blown in and the house was strewn with pieces of roofing. A great deal of mud accumulated.

OSU Coach Wes Fesler, Like a Swimmer In a Whirlpool, Is in a Tough Situation

(This is the first of two articles concerning Ohio State university's football situation Tomorrow: Paul Brown and Ohio State.)

By JOHN BARRINGTON
INS Sportswriter

COLUMBUS, May 6—Wesley Eugene Fesler is in the unfortunate position of a swimmer in the center of a maelstrom.

The curly haired impresario of Ohio State university's shaky football fortunes apparently is caught in a whirlpool, which he has had only a small part in shaping Yet, barring unforeseen developments, he is likely to be the victim, the fall guy, the scapegoat of that situation

Doubtless, someone warned the former All-American end about tricky undertows when he accepted the Ohio State coaching job a little over a year ago.

Maybe it was that very warning that enforced Fesler's desire to return to his alma mater as chief football factorum

Untenable Position

The likeable Fesler stepped slap-dab into an almost untenable position

Briefly, the forces tugging so ruthlessly against each other may be diagrammed tnusly:

1 The almost insatiable desire of Ohio State followers for victorious teams, and, hand in hand with that, the never flagging over-optimism in pre-season evaluations

2. The intense factionalism involving those who worshipped for many years at the shrine of former Athletic Director L. W. St John, as opposed to those who disapproved of every St. John action right down to the way he tied his shoes

3 The unique position of Paul Brown, former Buck coach and now head of the powerful Cleveland Browns Undeniably a football genius and a man of immense personality, Brown has a huge following and a surprising desire to return as OSU coach-athletic director.

4 The fact that Fesler assumed the grid post after OSU football fortunes were already on the downgrade; and that he took office simultaneously with a new athletic director, a new assistant director and even a new ticket chieftain

In the latter connection, the triumvirate of Fesler, athletic director Dick Larkins and Ticket Director Oscar Thomas made their full share of mistakes as freshmen in administration of the vast Ohio State athletic enterprise.

Most Glaring Fault

Probably the most serious and glaring fault was a weakness in that nebulous thing known as public relations Time and again each of the trio took the press and public into its confidence when it would have been wiser not to do so—and failed to share information that should have been public property

Larkins and Fesler made themselves look particularly bad by publicly decrying real or fancied proselyting of Ohio High school athletes by other schools

It is undoubtedly vexing to lose good prospects to other schools It is however, hypocritical to represent such a situation as new or unusual.

Other fine Ohio schoolboy athletes have peddled their services to the highest bidder ever since college football began to grow up into a major undertaking By the same token, athletes have from time to time crossed the state line to do or die for Ohio State.

Sincere in Alarm

Buck moguls are sincere in their alarm over the cold shoulder their overtures are receiving in scholastic ranks, but there is no use sidestepping the real reason

Fesler was the fourth Ohio coach in five years. Such constant changes have a discouraging effect upon the boy who is choosing a coach and a system under which to play his collegiate football

It is scarcely logical that another change would stabilize the OSU picture

Harding Meets North Today In Diamond Tourney

Harding diamondmen will meet Columbus North this afternoon in the first round of play in the Central District baseball tournament.

The game will be played on Columbus West's field at 4 p m.

Drawings for the tournament, conducted in Columbus Monday, were not attended by a representative from Harding The secretary of the Central District board did the honors instead and drew a toughie for Coach Pete Howison's nine in picking the Polar Bears.

The Prexies will go into the game showing a record of two victories and four losses, the latest reverse coming at the hands of Galion, 3-0, Tuesday afternoon. The Mansfield Tygers were responsible for two of the Prexy set-backs and Ashland accounted for another, while the Prexies have won contests with Waldo and Caledonia

The game Tuesday was played on a sea of mud on the Galion field.

Ed Roseberry started on the mound for the Prexies but was relieved by Clyde Seedle in the third after issuing a series of walks

The Galionites got to Seedle for two hits in four innings, the game being called at the end of the sixth Seifer again took his stand behind the plate, and Mathias punched out the only Prexy hit as he connected for a triple

Harness Racing To Hit Peak Saturday

By The Associated Press

ARCADIA, Calif, May 6—The Western Harness association offers one of the most pretentious programs in the annals of sulky racing Saturday when three stakes worth around $75,000 in added money will be dished out to the winners

General Manager Bernard Kearney, comparatively new in harness circles but long on facts, said it would mark a high point in money distribution, as well as in topflight horses, in 75 years of Grand Circuit racing.

The top event is the $50,000 Golden West Trot, featuring such contenders as Rodney, Chestertown, Chris Spencer and others.

Sharing interest will be the $10,000 Challenge Pace, a virtual rerun of last week's $50,000 Golden West Pace which was won, after a false start and a dispute, by Indian Land

Miss Pegasus Logan, a 21-1 shot, captured the $2,500 feature pace event on yesterday's program The winner paid $45 90, $15 50 and $7.30.

It's Tag Team Grappling Tonight

Things will be a "poppin" at the Marion Armory tonight when Al Alexander and Steve Nenoff square off against the team of Frankie Hill and Al Getz two of the roughest. Nenoff and Alexander are well known here while Hill (used to wrestle as the "Bat") and Getz will be practically newcomers. Al Getz is a protege of Dutch Mantell and hails from Amarillo, Tex. This will mark Al's first Marion appearance Hill appeared here several years ago as the Bat. The team bout will be over the two hour route with the best two out of three falls to win. This has always been Marion's favorite type of grappling and from the look of the above names this match should stand out as one of the best. Before the team match there will be thirty minute matches in which Steve Nenoff will take on Frankie Hall and Al Alexander will tangle with Al Getz. Giants went into the ninth ning end of a 5-4 count. re away, Bolduc walked, en for Bolduc and went to on a wild pitch. Bohlander to left, Neely stopping at Roth attempted to pick Neely off second but threw into center field, both runners advancing. Castrovince hit to Caito at second and when the Giants' infielder threw wild to the plate, both runners scored, Castrovince going to second.

A wild pitch sent Castrovince to third and he scored on Borden's fly to left.

Tie Up Game

An error by Castrovince on a Caito grounder, walks to Hosler and Berns and Bob Davis' single gave Springfield a 7-7 tie in the bottom of the ninth.

Mislovich was safe on Huffman's error to open the tenth and went to second on a wild pitch Tutera plated Mislovich with his first hit of the game.

Bekeza's hand was broken in the ninth when he cut off a runner sliding home on a Giant squeeze play, but he didn't know it was broken until after the game

He continued to catch that inning and didn't leave the game until he came to bat in the top of the ninth, when he discovered he couldn't grip the bat. Frank DeLuca relieved him at bat with two strikes against him, but walked to start the ninth-inning rally.

Gatts caught in the tenth inning.

After the game Bekeza was taken to a Springfield doctor and it was discovered a bone in the palm of his hand had been broken.

Argue 20 Minutes

The tenth inning argument which ended in Bekeza's banishment from the park, was over an umpire's decision declaring Bill Bohlander out for having been hit in the back by a thrown ball while running to first. The umpire ruled interference and the subsequent argument lasted 20 minutes.

While the ball was being recovered after striking Bohlander, two Cub runners crossed the plate, but they were brought back by the ump. Fortunately for the Cubs, the winning run had already been scored.

Chicago Cub scout Dick Spaulding of Philadelphia, in Marion until Monday, attended the game yesterday with several Marion Baseball club officials. Last year Spaulding helped Manager Nelson Burbrink get the Marion Cubs in shape during spring training. He has been a scout for the National league Cubs for a number of years

Cardington, Marengo Win Way to Finals

Special to The Star

CARDINGTON, May 6 — Cardington and Marengo won their way to the Morrow county finals here yesterday, the Pirates defeating Johnsville 14-1, and Marengo shutting out Edison 10-0 behind the one-hit pitching of lefty Hugh Pittick.

They'll meet on the Cardington diamond at 3 p. m. Friday for the championship.

Cardington clubbed out a seven-run fifth inning and the game ended in the sixth when catcher Doyle Smith belted a ball 325 feet from home plate for a four-run homer. Under the tournament rules, the game ends when one team takes a 10-run lead after the fifth inning. Pirate pitcher Carl Stevens gave the Johnsville Raiders but three safe hits.

Ron Harper of Edison collected the only hit off Marengo hurler Hugh Puttick in the second game. Norman Worline, Edison starter, walked seven and hit four batters in being charged with the loss. After four runs crossed the plate in the sixth, he was relieved by Maynard Goare, who pitched a no-hitter in the opening day's play.

Umpires were Auggie Rios and Robert Jewett of Ohio Wesleyan university.

IT IS possible that the long, lean, bespeckled righthander who caused the Cubs a lot of trouble at Portsmouth Monday, will take the mound against Marion Friday night in the second of the two-game series with the A's. That's Ed (Tennessee) Morris, who gave up eight hits but clubbed himself a three-run homer as the A's won, 9-4. Tennessee is a cool man under fire. Upon two occasions Friday he loaded up the bases with walks and hits but got himself off with but three-run damage, and two of these runs were charged to a fielding error.

* * *

DOWN NEWARK way they think they have the Ohio-Indiana league's best fielding third baseman in Frank Santora, who didn't look so hot on the defensive when he appeared in two exhibition games against the Cubs as a shortstop, muffing three of ten chances. He did wield a big stick against the locals in those two pre-season tilts, however, hitting safely four times in eight times at bat, one of which was a solid triple. And the chunky Italian infielder looked plenty good at the hot corner at Richmond last Monday night starting one of Newark's five twin killings and handling five hard chances without error. The Yankees could have used a little more than smooth fielding against the Braves Monday. They lost, 5-2, when pitcher Len Dube slipped after shuffling out the Braves for seven innings, and his reliefer, who came in with two on, filled the bases to overflowing and then dished up a pair of base-hit pitches for the curtain

Brewers Coming Along In Association Race

By The Associated Press

The Milwaukee Brewers, preseason choices of the baseball writers to cop the American Association pennant, have been coming along with a rush lately and today they're only two full games behind pace-setting Indianapolis.

Nick Cullop's defending Junior World Series champs swept their three-game series with Louisville by routing the Colonels yesterday, 15 to 4. In other league games, St. Paul edged out Indianapolis, 4 to 3, and Toledo went 10 innings before downing Minneapolis 6 to 3. Wet grounds stopped Columbus at Kansas City.

Newark Wins 1st O-I Game

By The Associated Press

Newark finally won an Ohio-Indiana baseball league game last night.

After losing five straight, Manager Bob Dill's nine crashed the winner's circle with a bang by pounding out 14 hits and 11 runs in the second game of a doubleheader at Muncie. Newark won, 11-8.

Muncie kept the league lead, however, with an 8-2 victory in the seven-inning opener. Harold Finley pitched a five-hitter and helped his cause with a third-inning homer. Muncie tagged two Newark pitchers for 13 hits.

There were two other twin-bills last night, and each resulted in a split. Lima and Portsmouth took turns at winning one-run games. Portsmouth taking the opener, 6-5, and Lima the nightcap, 2-1. Richmond beat Zanesville, 12-5, and then Zanesville beat Richmond 8-1.

In the night's remaining contest, Marion snapped Springfield's three-game winning streak, 8-7, in a 10-inning game that lasted three hours and thirty minutes. Springfield kicked the game away—literally—making 10 errors. An error, a wild pitch and Vito Tutera's single produced the winning run.

That resulted in the only change in the standings, Marion moving into a tie with Portsmouth for second with a 4-2 record. Muncie has a 6-2 mark. Springfield 3-2, Richmond and Zanesville 3-4, Lima 2-5 and Newark 1-5.

Muncie's Bob Nieman hit a homer in the second game, but the blow proved wasted effort as Newark battered three Muncie pitchers.

Zanesville's manager, Ray Hathaway, held Richmond to three hits in the nightcap, winning 8-1. Richmond got 11 hits in the seven-inning game.

Portsmouth took the first game from Lima, 6-5, as Don Whitemore tossed a six-hitter. Lima won the second, 2-1, on two fourth-inning walks and Genel Holder's double off pitcher Ed Daino.

New York Stock Quotations

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, May 6—Rails today led the stock market on another moderate retreat.

Fears that a railway strike next week may not be avoided continued to depress speculative and investment sentiment.

Dealings were fairly active from the start. While modest buying signs appeared here and there near Midday, declines of one point or so held a wide majority.

Among resistant issues were Youngstown Steel, Baltimore & Ohio, Sears Roebuck, Kennecott, Caterpillar Tractor, Eastman Kodak and General Electric.

In the clattering division were Santa Fe, Southern Railway, Chesapeake & Ohio, Northern Pacific, U.S. Steel, Republic Steel, U.S. Rubber, General Motors, Chrysler, Studebaker, Montgomery Ward, Oliver Corp., Westinghouse Electric, J. C. Penney, Standard Oil and Commonwealth & Southern.

BARN COLLAPSES

ASHLEY—Frank Powers' barn, a loud crash Tuesday and investigation found that the roof had collapsed and had taken away a part of the upper story that only the walls of the lower part now remain standing. The barn was weakened during a severe windstorm of a few years ago when a corner post collapsed, Mr. Powers stated.
